POLAR REGIONS ARE CALLING

Angelica Vorea

Dear Adventure Traveler,

Step into the enchanting polar worlds as you leaf through the pages of our new catalogue. We hope it transports you to the magical realms of remote Antarctica with the sometimes comical antics of its penguins, dazzling Greenland lit up by the Northern Lights, and the untrammelled Svalbard Archipelago, high above the Arctic Circle.

For more than 25 years, Poseidon has been bringing these frozen landscapes closer to people, and we're proud to have fostered a robust travel community that stands as a testament to our shared passion for discovery.

Having once immersed yourself in the polar worlds, the allure becomes irresistible. We trust that this catalogue will serve as a companion in guiding you toward the perfect cruise choice. Within its pages, discover our most popular and enduring itineraries to Antarctica and the Arctic, unveiling destinations such as South Georgia, the Falkland Islands, Svalbard, Greenland, and the British and Faroe Islands.

Whether your heart is set on a specific expedition or you're seeking inspiration for the voyage of a lifetime, this catalogue invites you to navigate the extraordinary polar world crafted by Poseidon. We eagerly anticipate the pleasure of welcoming you aboard the Sea Spirit, whether it marks your initial voyage or a much anticipated return, to explore new horizons with us.

With anticipation and warm regards,

Angelica Vorea
CEO, Poseidon Expeditions

In the Spirit of Adventure: Polar Expedition Cruising

We started Poseidon Expeditions in 1999 with the simple belief that expedition cruising is the best way to see the polar regions. 26 years later, over 25,000 passengers agree: our unique style of travel offers you a genuine adventure served with healthy measures of education and relaxation. Your polar cruise experience on our small ships will be deeply personal and immensely satisfying.

Why travel with Poseidon Expeditions?

Poseidon Expeditions is one of the leading operators of polar expeditions in the cruise industry. Since 1999, we've offered voyages that combine the spirit of adventure with a generous measure of onboard comfort and well-being, along with educational enrichment.

Small ship – big advantage

With a maximum capacity of just 114 passengers, we usually operate with 100 guests off the ship. It maximizes our travelers' time ashore because there is no need for splitting passengers into groups for landing rotations, as is required on larger ships.

26 years of polar cruising

Polar cruising is our passion and expertise. We've gained tremendous experience building a strong team of enthusiastic polar professionals who are all experts in their field. Each expedition cruise is a thoughtfully crafted voyage.

A real polar expedition

Experience active exploration through a variety of activities. Weather permitting, we schedule several excursions per day and offer optional kayaking and, in Antarctica, camping. Enrich your polar knowledge in an engaging and interactive way through Poseidon's edutainment program.

Expedition team excellence

Our guests continually rate our expedition team as top-notch, highlighting their expertise in their field, knowledge, professionalism, and commitment to making each expedition cruise truly unforgettable and life changing.

Environmental responsibility

As a member of leading associations dedicated to protecting the Arctic and Antarctica, we take an active approach with projects such as Clean Up Svalbard, strict leave-no-waste policies, and a reduction of our footprint.

Safety and comfort

Expedition cruising with Poseidon ensures active, yet safe polar exploration. Our highly trained team of professionals will help you navigate into the polar worlds in maximum possible comfort and safety.

AWARDS

Poseidon Expeditions is named World's Leading Polar Expedition Operator 2021

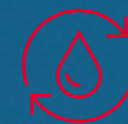

Poseidon Expeditions is named Best Polar Expedition Cruise Operator at the 2022 International Travel Awards

Poseidon Expeditions is named Best Polar Expedition Cruise Operator at the 2023 International Travel Awards

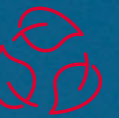

Environmental Promise

We pledge our commitment to Arctic and Antarctic conservation and our support for related scientific research while striving to leave a smaller footprint when we travel. With various measures for environmental protection and sustainable expedition cruising, we are able to contribute to the preservation of the polar regions, which is a great responsibility and honor.

Water management

The wastewater produced on board the Sea Spirit is treated using an internationally certified and approved sewage treatment system, which utilizes a chemical chlorination and dechlorination process, producing a clean and safe effluent.

Energy management

The Sea Spirit has a comprehensive energy management plan compliant with international marine pollution prevention regulations, which are designed to improve energy efficiency of shipboard operations, reduce CO₂ emissions from the ship, and minimize energy waste.

Small ship – smaller footprint

Waste management

The Sea Spirit utilizes a grinding machine to reduce the volume of waste, which is later separated and discharged or unloaded ashore according to local and international regulations. Waste aboard the 50 Let Pobedy is treated and stored in a special low-temperature eco-compartment, eliminating any waste discharge into the ocean.

Day-to-day initiatives

We provide every passenger with a reusable water bottle; single-use plastic bottles and containers are eliminated. On board the Sea Spirit, chefs adhere to guidelines recommended by the Marine Stewardship Council for sustainability with regard to the types of seafood served.

Safe employment practices & standards

Our Sea Spirit crew return year after year for employment because the ship is an excellent place to work. The ship is regularly checked by inspectors from the International Transport Workers Federation (ITF), and complies with all requirements for crew employment.

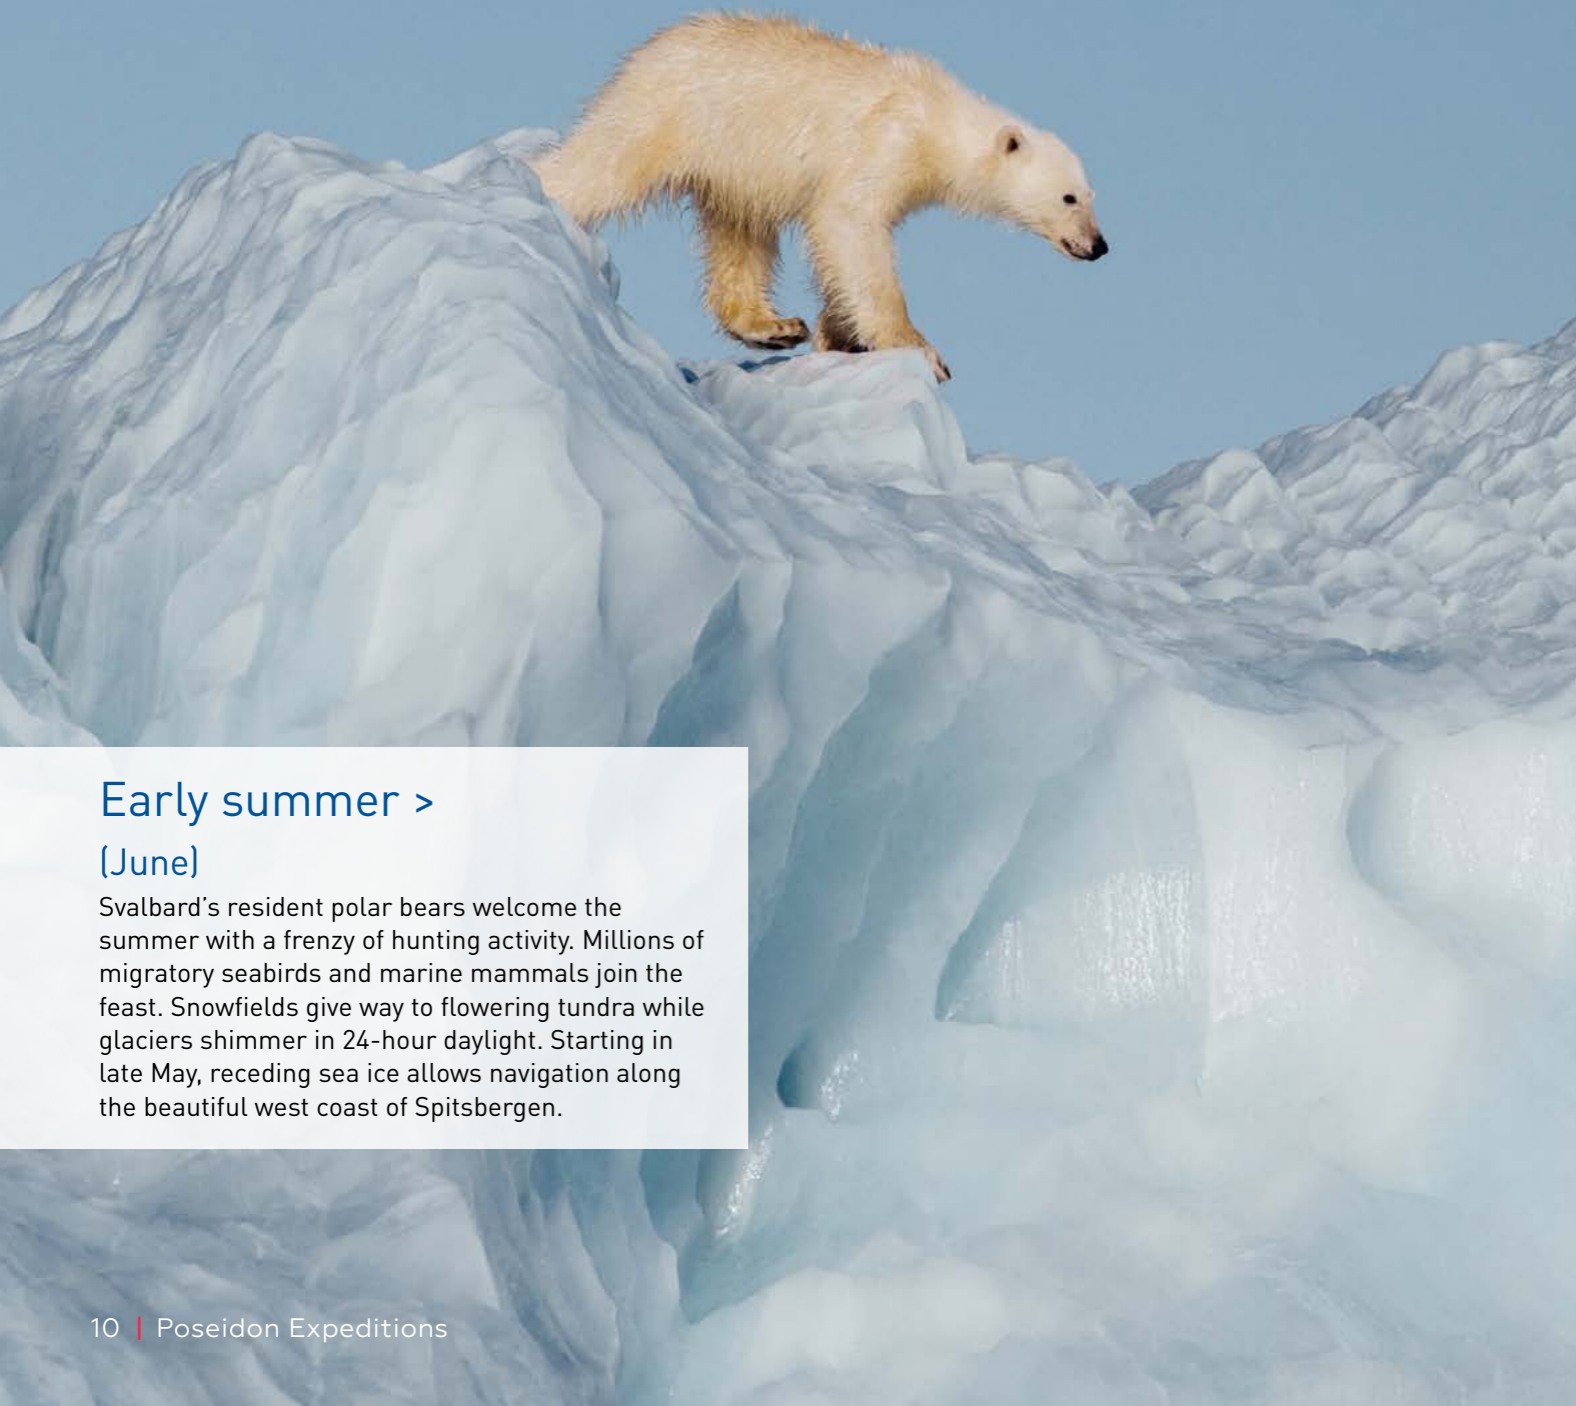

MEMBERSHIPS

Poseidon Expeditions is a member in good standing of both the Association of Arctic Expedition Cruise Operators (AECO) and the International Association of Antarctica Tour Operators (IAATO).

We're a proud contributor to the Clean Up Svalbard Program, as well as several of our own environmental initiatives.

Regions of the Arctic

Early summer > (June)

Svalbard's resident polar bears welcome the summer with a frenzy of hunting activity. Millions of migratory seabirds and marine mammals join the feast. Snowfields give way to flowering tundra while glaciers shimmer in 24-hour daylight. Starting in late May, receding sea ice allows navigation along the beautiful west coast of Spitsbergen.

High summer > (July - August)

Discover Svalbard in July and relish the advantages of an Arctic summer, featuring excellent weather and abundant wildlife. In mid-August, seize the perfect opportunity to explore Northeast Greenland National Park (the largest in the world) and a spectacular area of fjords and wildlife such as reindeer, arctic fox, muskox, seals, whales and birdlife.

Late summer > (September)

In September, as Arctic nights become sufficiently dark, the magnificent fjords of East Greenland become the ideal place to watch mesmerizing northern lights displays. Days are still long enough to explore an outsized landscape of polychromatic mountains, blue glaciers, shining white icebergs, and tundra valleys awash in autumn colors.

Seasons of Antarctica

Early summer (October-November)

Snow and ice are plentiful in October and November as millions of ocean-going penguins and seabirds return to Antarctica at the start of their breeding season. Courtship rituals take place and eggs are laid. In South Georgia, gigantic elephant seal bulls battle ferociously for control of harems on the beaches. Newborn pups are soon to follow.

High summer

(December - January)

These months deliver the warmest weather, nearly continuous daylight, and frenetic wildlife activity. This is the best time to observe fluffy penguin chicks in their nests. Great numbers of whales arrive in Antarctica to begin non-stop feeding on swarms of krill. The beaches of South Georgia are jam-packed with king penguins and fur seals.

Late summer (February - March)

These are the prime months for viewing maturing penguin youngsters and energetic seal pups. An abundance of young animals and their many predators set the stage for dramatic events and amazing photo opportunities. This is also the best time for incredible encounters with whales of all kinds.

Our Polar Professionals

Christian Bruttel > Expedition Leader

Christian is originally from the Black Forest in the south of Germany. In 2012, after studying to be a teacher and traveling around the world in pursuit of action and adventure, he settled in the High Arctic community of Longyearbyen, in Svalbard, where he trained to be a polar guide. Since then, Christian has worked throughout the Arctic and Antarctica as an adventure guide, polar historian and expedition leader.

Sergey Shirokiy > Expedition Leader

Sergey pursued his history studies at the University of Archangelsk. From 2011 to 2017, he served as the head of tourism for the Russian Arctic national park before relocating to Barentsburg in 2017. With extensive experience, he has been a tour guide on expedition vessels in both the Arctic and Antarctica for many years.

Aaron Strahlke > Expedition Leader

Aaron is an experienced polar guide and geologist from Berlin, Germany. He earned his master's degree from the Heriot-Watt University in Edinburgh, Scotland. His expertise is in soft rock geology, tectonics and geophysics. He is also an expert in Geophysics, Formation Evaluation, Geomechanics and Sedimentology. Since 2017, he has been travelling to the Arctic and Antarctic, hoping to spark people's interest in geology.

Huw Lewis-Jones > Expedition Leader

Huw is an experienced polar guide and historian of exploration, culture, photography and the environment, with a Ph.D. from the University of Cambridge. He served as curator of the Scott Polar Research Institute and the National Maritime Museum in London. Huw regularly appears on television and radio as an expert on the history of polar exploration. His award-winning books have been published in 14 languages.

Serena Yuan >

Ornithologist

After studying at McGill University in Montreal, Serena worked as a translator for tour groups to Antarctica. She made her passion a profession and got a degree in biology. Specializing in sea birds and especially the albatross, she considers the Southern Ocean her second home.

Chad Burtt >

Expedition Guide

In 1999, Chad went to Antarctica as a member of the team filming the award-winning historically accurate IMAX movie about the iconic survival story of Ernest Shackleton's 1914 Endurance expedition.

Eloisa Berrier >

Marine Biologist, Kayak Master

Eloisa grew up around water in Argentina, where she studied southern right whales and earned a marine biology degree. Since 2008, she has been leading kayaking expeditions in Patagonia, Antarctica and the High Arctic.

Falcon Scott >

Historian

Falcon is a British polar historian. He is the only grandson of Captain Robert Falcon Scott, legendary leader of the Terra Nova Antarctic Expedition. Falcon's many polar pursuits include capturing the unrivaled beauty of Antarctica with his art.

Marta Duch >

Expedition Assistant

Marta, from Barcelona, has been going to sea since the age of 8. She was part of the 2004 Spanish Olympic sailing team in Athens, and she joined the 2013 Pakea Bizkaia sailing expedition to Antarctica.

Page Chichester >

Photographer

Page is a professional photographer and videographer from the United States, who studied Photography at the University of Bonn. He has logged over one million nautical miles on ships throughout the world since 1999. His nature and wildlife photography appears regularly in German and American publications.

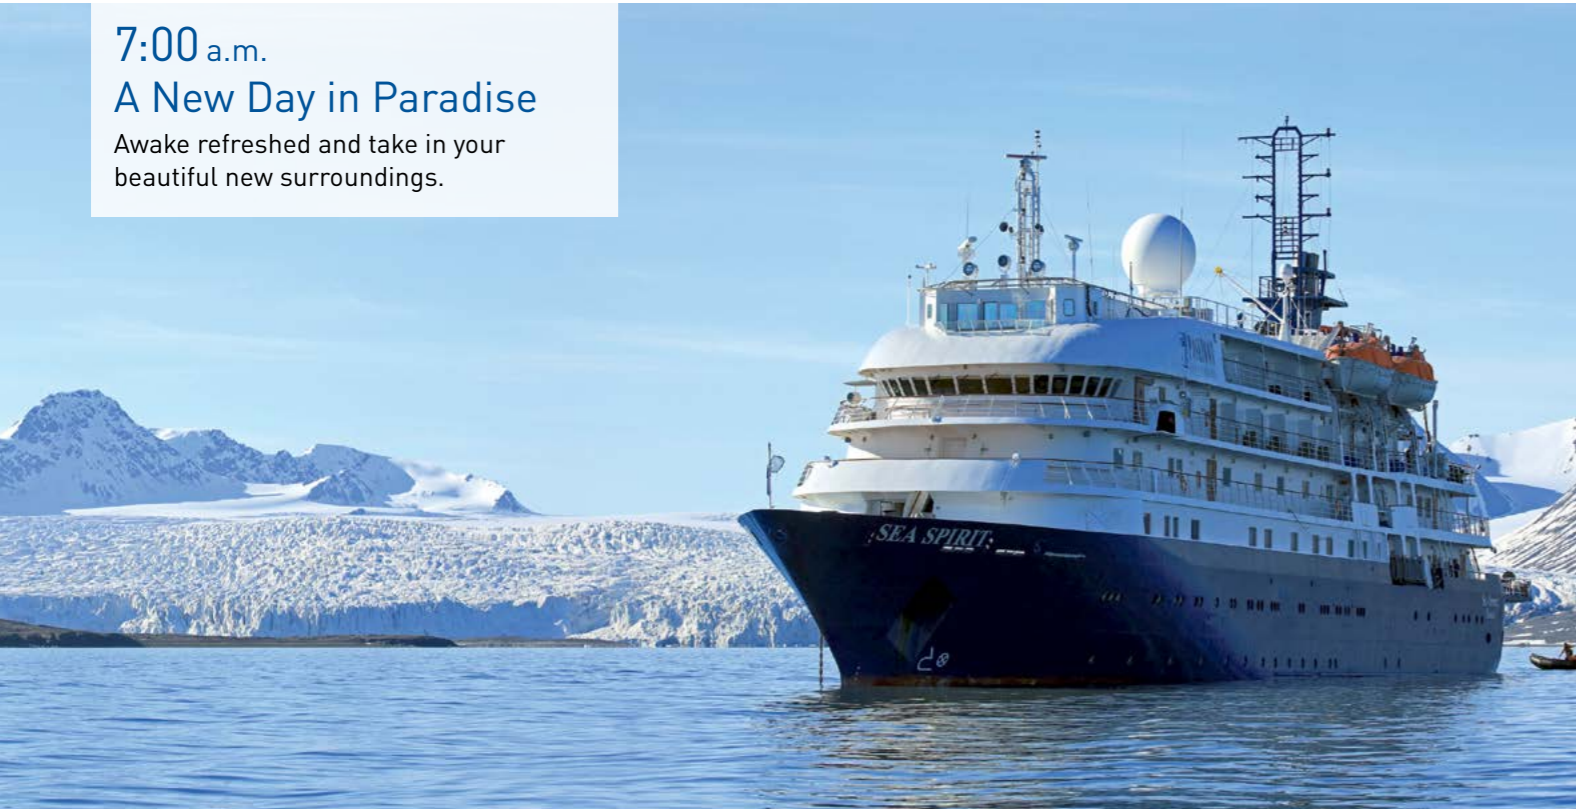

Our Polar Experts

On shore and on the water, you will be accompanied by some of the most experienced guides in the polar regions. Our expedition staff undergo rigorous training to ensure that our safety record remains among the best in the industry. From our photographers to our certified kayak guides, our team of experts is always on hand to make your expedition safe, exciting, entertaining and educational.

North Pole

“ Standing at the North Pole for the first time is the most amazing privilege. If you think of how many explorers tried to get to this point to find out what was here... and here we are... on the top of the world. ”

Kari

Icebreaker cruises to the North Pole have always been a flagship product of Poseidon Expeditions. Standing on top of the world is an extraordinary feeling that only a few hundred people on our planet get to experience every year. Unfortunately, Poseidon Expeditions has had to stop selling and operating North Pole cruises at this time. While our Top of the World programs are on hold, we still keep exploring the most notable and unique destinations in the Arctic and Antarctic. Join the Poseidon travel family now, as there are plenty of great reasons to visit these breathtaking polar regions.

North Pole >
Top of the World

Reasons to discover the North Pole with us:

- Take advantage of a rare opportunity to travel aboard a time-tested, nuclear-powered vessel, purpose-built to the highest technical and ice-breaking standards in the world.
- No other vessel has achieved an unbroken record of success in attaining the geographic North Pole.
- Zodiacs and an onboard helicopter allow you to explore remote Franz Josef Land, home to abundant polar bears, walruses and Arctic birdlife.
- Stand on the bow and feel the power as a 75,000 horsepower engine propels your ship through ice up to three meters thick.
